

Have a professional e-mail without a web site

Even if you don't consider it necessary to have a web site for your business it's professional to have a customised e-mail address.